

Handwritten Arabic calligraphy in a highly stylized, cursive script. The text is written in black ink on a white background. The script is dense and flowing, with many loops and flourishes. The words are difficult to decipher due to the extreme stylization, but they appear to be a single line of text. The calligraphy is a form of Arabic script, possibly Thuluth or a similar style, characterized by its thick, black lines and intricate, decorative elements. The overall appearance is that of a highly skilled and expressive calligrapher's work.